Divine Miracles are Not Past History.....	26

2) The Tenth of Teves and Shabbos Parshas Vayechi, 12th Day of Teves..... 31

1. "Yaakov, our ancestor, did not die. Just as his descendants are alive, he is alive;" True life stemming from a connection with Torah; The existence of such a connection within every Jew, even when his outward appearance does not reflect it; The encouragement this message gives the Jewish people after they conclude the Book of Bereishis.
2. The tragedy of the error in criticizing people who do not observe the Torah at present; How such an approach is contrary to the truth and reflects a lack of respect both for G-d and for the Jewish people.
3. Our Sages' directive, "Do not utter words which empower the Satan".
4. The legacy of self-sacrifice left us by the martyrs of the Holocaust; Heaven forbid that we say that their death came as a punishment for sins; rather, it is an unfathomable Divine decree.
5. The positive dimension in the commemoration of the Tenth of Teves, the day which "the King of Babylon laid siege to Jerusalem"; the observance of the Fast as reflected in the themes of (a) the preciousness of every Jew and (b) the imminence of the Future Redemption.

3) Shabbos Parshas Shmos, 19th Day of Teves..... 55

1. The difference between the Book of Bereishis which describes the service of the Patriarchs and the Book of Shmos which describes the service of their descendants, the Jewish people as a whole; Our existence in exile is against our fundamental nature, each moment of exile being a new descent into exile, as it were.
2. Emphasizing the virtues of our fellow Jews; The impropriety of criticizing them harshly and threatening them with Divine retribution.

4) Shabbos Parshas Vaaira, 26th Day of Teves..... 66

1. The 24th of Teves, the yahrzeit of the Alter Rebbe; The contrast between the revelation to the Patriarchs and the revelation that followed the giving of the Torah; The association between Yaakov our Patriarch, the Alter Rebbe, and the Torah.
